Report of the Director

OVERVIEW

The Agency continued to improve its services and programs both to the public libraries and to state government despite the fact that there was no increase in funding this past fiscal year. State aid to public libraries also remained at the same level as the previous year. In reality, funding for the Agency and State aid resulted in considerably lower purchasing power due to the rising impact of inflation. However, much was accomplished and I feel that the Alabama Public Library Service continues to demonstrate its leadership in improving library services to the people of Alabama.

Some of the accomplishments achieved during the past fiscal year include the following:

- Automation. Alabama Interlibrary Catalog (ALICAT) in 50 locations; CL Systems, Inc. (CLSI) installed.
- A successful Governors Conference on Libraries and Information Services.
- Public discussion statewide on multitype library cooperation.
- Appointment of a study committee by the Governor to develop a plan for formal cooperation among all types of libraries.
- Publications of a newsletter "WhATs LINE" for the Blind and Physically Handicapped.
- Documents department established.
- Establishment of a Humanities Resource Center.
- Grants received from both the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Alabama Committee for the Humanities.
- The 20th Anniversary of APLS as an independent agency.

These and other developments are discussed in greater detail throughout this report.

DIVISION FOR THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

It is difficult to summarize the magnitude of the work accomplished by this division especially considering the loss of staff suffered during the year.

This division of the library is a popular attraction as evidenced by the more than 2,400 people touring the regional library during the year.

A newsletter The WhAT's Line (named by one of the patrons) began publication to serve all the BPH patrons. The newletter is available in large print, braille, or tape.

Cooperation with other state agencies has increased. Brailling for the Secretary of State's Office and the Capitol Building has begun. Also, taping of personnel tests for job applicants who are blind and physically handicapped has greatly aided both the State Personnel Department and the applicants.

The number of active readers continued to increase. The count rose by 33 1/3% to over 6,600. Total circulation increased more than 300% to over 171,000.

The narrator program produced 49 books, articles and magazines in braille or on cassette. Thirty-three (33) open reel tapes, 2,691 cassettes and 2,005 cassette magazines were duplicated statewide.

The automated circulation system for BPH was delayed considerably with the loss of our information systems manager. The position was vacant for several months. Now that the position has been filled, work has resumed and it is hoped that the system will be operating by late Spring, 1980.

LIBRARY AUTOMATION

Since the first edition of ALICAT (Alabama Interlibrary Catalog) was produced in 1978, showing the holdings of Birmingham Public Library, APLS, and seven Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET) member academic libraries, the number of titles included on it has increased from 361,000 to 471,000 and locations for individual items from 425,000 to 707,500 volumes. After one year of operation, ALICAT is being used by ten of the fourteen university libraries in the state, six of Alabama's twenty public two-year colleges as well as twenty-eight (28) public libraries which include twenty-five (25) regional libraries that serve over 130 member libraries. ALICAT is the beginning of a statewide union catalog and is also an important tool in interlibrary loan. Information Design Readers (ROM III) which are used to display the catalog are now located in over 50 libraries throughout the state.

In late August, a state contract negotiated by APLS was signed with CL Systems, Inc. (CLSI) to make their automated circulation system available to any library in Alabama at the greatly reduced state price. The first system installed in December, 1979, at the Montgomery City-County Public Library, will be a shared system with APLS.

It is assumed that other libraries will continue to take advantage of the state negotiated price in the future. At a later date, a statewide hook-up with libraries using the CLSI System will become a reality.

The new SOLINET (OCLC) Interlibrary Loan Module is now operational and assisting APLS to better fulfill its interlibrary loan responsibilities.

The on-line circulation system for the Blind and Physically Handicapped department is still in the development stages. This system is being developed in-house but, due to not having an automation person on the staff for several months, the progress on the project has been impeded. However, it is now planned to have the BPH circulation system on-line by late Spring, 1980.

INTERLIBRARY COOPERATION

Five regional hearings were held in conjunction with the State Department of Education during February and March on the Hall Report which recommended the development of multitype library systems. More than 500 people attended, representing all geographic areas, all types of libraries and the library patrons.

One outcome of the hearings was the agreement to establish four groups by type of library to study the Hall Report. These subcommittees will meet to prepare a report for the Governor's Study Committee (mandated by the Governor's Conference on Library and Information Services) to investigate the feasibility of formal interlibrary cooperation among all types of libraries in Alabama.

LSCA grants were awarded to eight regional libraries to provide a reference and interlibrary loan (RILL) librarian. This position is to be filled by a qualified professional MLS librarian. These RILL librarians will play a big role in the improvement and expansion of reference and interlibrary loan activities. The grants are scheduled to begin January 1, 1980.

APLS staff has also worked closely with the Hospital Library Consortium which will allow public libraries to participate in the health sciences consortia soon to be formed. Close liaison was also established with the Lister Hill Medical Library and other health service libraries.

LIBRARY SERVICES AND CONSTRUCTION ACT

In FY-1979, federal funds for public libraries provided by the Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA) amounted to $1,156,852 for Alabama. Of this total, $769,248 was awarded to public libraries for various types of local projects; $212,000 was spent on statewide public library projects; and $175,604 was utilized in strengthening the state library agency. Seventy-six (76) grants were awarded to twenty-five (25) public libraries, with one given to support a sub-regional library for the blind and physically handicapped at the Alabama Department for the Adult Blind and Deaf.

For the first time, funds were provided under a special program to upgrade the resource collections of the four largest public libraries of the state — Birmingham, Mobile, Huntsville, and Montgomery. These Major Urban Resource Libraries are preparing special programs which will allow them to serve regional libraries in a better capacity.

Among the statewide projects funded were the following: a contract for an automated circulation system to begin in Montgomery County and expand throughout the state; a continuation of an intensive library seminar for 25 library administrators who do not hold a professional graduate degree; a statewide library trustees' conference at Auburn University; and a study to determine the best methods for extending library services into rural areas of the state.

One of the most important uses of the LSCA funds is the Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped and its seven subregional libraries. This program attempts to serve all the blind and handicapped people in Alabama. While materials are furnished by the Library of Congress, the LSCA funds help to defray the administrative costs for this service.

During 1979, APLS continued to support several LSCA projects of public libraries that provide services to state institutions, i.e., prisons, mental hospitals, and juvenile detention centers. Increased service to the aging was provided with LSCA funds. Lack of a full-time consultant limits what can be done in this area.

As a result of the LSCA funds, Alabama's public libraries made considerable progress toward achieving the goal of providing the highest level of library and information service to all Alabamians. These federal funds which supplement state and local monies, continue to be a vital part of the support of library development in Alabama.

STATE AID

State funding increased from $1,056,438 to $1,377,700 or from 31¢ to 40¢ per capita in FY-1978-79. This was a good increase but, due to inflation, is still not enough to provide significant increases in services, programs, and materials for public libraries.

State funds are used to supplement local funds, not to replace them. These funds are to be used to provide materials and services which would not be available otherwise.

New criteria for the use of state aid funds are now in effect and should help reach the goal of better public library service to every citizen in Alabama.

PUBLIC LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT — PLANNING AND RESEARCH

Construction with federal funds was not a big item this past year. Only Wheeler Basin Regional Library and Hartselle Public Library were able to do any construction, and both were in the second phase of their building programs. Again, both were successful in securing Appalachian Regional Commission grants.

Though federal funds were scarce, three new library buildings were dedicated this past fiscal year. All three were constructed with local funds. In this day and age, that's quite an achievement. The three new library buildings are Sylacauga, Talladega, and Tuscaloosa.

Several communities began planning for new library buildings. These included Grove Hill, Brent, Double Springs, Rainbow City, Pelham; Alabaster, and others. Hopefully, some of these plans will result in actual construction during the next fiscal year.

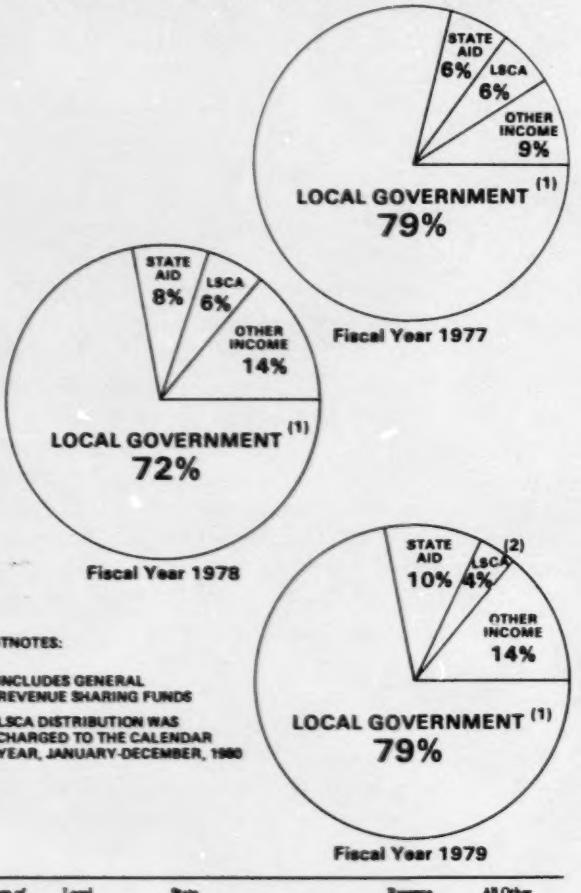
With the formation of Lowndes County Library at Ft. Deposit, all 67 counties in Alabama have at least one public library. This is a milestone that now makes it possible for every Alabama citizen to have access to library service.

Public libraries reported a smaller number of volumes held at the end of fiscal year 1978 than in the previous year. Holdings in periodicals and newspapers and growth of collections also declined. Collections of non-book resources (audio visual and print facsimile) reported some growth. While some of the decline can be attributed to improved accuracy in reporting (especially in book collections), some decline must be attributed to rapid increases in the costs of library resources.

Alabama's public libraries hold a reported 4,705,979 volumes. Collection growth declined by 22% over fiscal year 1977, adding only 248,234 volumes in fiscal year 1978. These data represent only quantity, and it is difficult if not impossible, to assess the quality of the collections in Alabama. However, a statewide average of $6.54 (includes materials and labor) is expended for every volume added to the public library collections. No subject analysis has been done of collections in terms of quality. One can hypothesize without absolute proof that the low volume cost reflects a larger number of high discount titles as well as a large number of gift books, and a conscious decision not to purchase any title that seems expensive. One can further hypothesize that Alabama's public libraries contain a greater proportion of juvenile titles, fiction, and paperbacks than general nonfiction works, and that nonfiction collections are rapidly aging without being replaced.

Public libraries in Alabama continue to be financed primarily by local government. Public library receipts in fiscal year 1978 totaled $12,962,663, an increase of 17% over the previous year. Analysis of the income by source (local government, state aid, LSCA, General Revenue Sharing, and all other sources), reveals a potentially disturbing trend in the source of library funds. The following table compares percentage of income by source for fiscal year 1978 with fiscal year 1977.

PUBLIC LIBRARY INCOME BY SOURCE



FOOTNOTES:

(1) INCLUDES GENERAL REVENUE SHARING FUNDS

(2) LSCA DISTRIBUTION WAS CHARGED TO THE CALENDAR YEAR, JANUARY-DECEMBER, 1980

Percentage of Total Income	Local Government	State Aid	LSCA	Revenue Sharing	All Other Income
1977	78.86	6.16	5.83	8.04	9.02
1978	62.07	9.42	5.86	9.75	14.10

The emerging trend in a change in percentage of funding from local sources to state, federal, and other sources needs monitoring and analysis. The trend should be examined in regional libraries and non-member libraries to determine if significant differences in funding trends exist for the two types of organization.

Part of the trend in changes in funding is an increased use of General Revenue funds in public library budgets. In 1977, General Revenue Sharing funds accounted for 8.04% of total receipts. In 1978, these funds were 9.75% of library income.

Expenditures in public libraries in Alabama totalled $12,695,096 in fiscal year 1978. Of these funds, 57.79% was expended in wages and salaries. Comparing data with fiscal year 1977, expenditures for wages and salaries were up 6%. However, no conclusions regarding salaries for personnel can be determined in this comparison. Although employment in public libraries was up 6%, the shift of personnel to CETA and lack of uniform reporting of these salaries prohibits meaningful analysis.

One general observation may be made about the percentage of expenditures for salaries. Nationally libraries are labor intensive. Total expenditures for salaries frequently account for 70% or higher of all expenditures for library purposes. Adequate personnel remains one of Alabama's greatest needs. There are not enough library personnel, and those that are available are frequently in clerical rather than professional positions. This shortage and inequitable distribution is reflected in a low percentage of expenditures for salaries.

Library materials budgets are losing significant buying power in this period of inflation. Expenditures for books rose by a mere 1% in fiscal year 1978 over the previous year. A substantial increase was reported in expenditures for periodicals and newspapers, the 24% increase reflecting a nationally noted rapid rise in the cost of serials. One interesting deviation from national reports, was a reported decrease in the percentage of expenditures for operating expenses. Public libraries reported that 23.17% of their budget was expended for operating expenses, a 2% decline over the fiscal year 1977 reports. While no substantiating data exists, it can be surmised that this reduction was accomplished through reductions in services in the face of rapidly rising costs for energy.

Currently a study is under way by the Graduate Library School at the University of Alabama to evaluate the effectiveness of various library delivery methods such as bookmobiles, books-by-mail and deposit stations. The results of this study will have a direct bearing on the future of bookmobile service.

The Long Range Program for Library Development in Alabama has been completely rewritten. In addition to meeting the requirements of LSCA, the written document includes our state library program in other areas.

Early in September Hurricane Frederick struck Mobile and Baldwin Counties causing millions of dollars of damage. Unfortunately, our public libraries also suffered some damage. Mobile suffered roof damages to two of its branches amounting to over $40,000 in book losses. Pritchard suffered damages to the main library and one of its branches. Bayou La Batre suffered some book damage. Baldwin County happily escaped serious damages although Gulf Shores suffered some damage to the building. Fortunately, all damages were covered by insurance.

Montevallo Public Library was destroyed by fire. The people rallied to the occasion and quickly found new quarters. APLS was able to assist with an emergency grant of $10,000 to help rebuild the book collection.

PUBLIC INFORMATION PROGRAM

The Alabama Public Library Service has made much progress in the area of public information during this past year. Highlighting the year were such promotional campaigns as the Governor's Conference on Library and Information Services, the 1979 Summer Reading Program, the reinstatement of the APLS newsletter COTTONBOLL, the creation and distribution of informational brochures relative to specific programs and services, and many other activities.

The Governor's Conference on Library and Information Services, held in January, provided an excellent vehicle for APLS in cooperation with all types of libraries throughout the state to promote public awareness of library services — past, present, and future. Media coverage of this event initially focused on the conference itself, but progressed beyond this to the reasons behind the conference: the present state of Alabama's public libraries and their role in providing information to the citizens in the years to come. Newspapers, radio, and television stations spotlighted the activities, with many local media targeting their respective delegates to the conference and the relationship of the local public library to the needs of its citizens.

The interest, awareness, and excitement created during the Governor's Conference continued after the conference officially ended, with the conference participants and public librarians actively seeking media coverage of library programs and events in their respective service areas.

Many positive things came about as a result of the Governor's Conference. It provided us with the opportunity to work closely with all types of libraries and for all of us to better understand each other's particular situations.

The opportunity to work with so many dedicated and interested Alabama citizens was in itself a most rewarding experience. The success of the conference was due mainly because of their strong support and committment for good library service.

A special thank you must go to Bob Ingram, Chairman of the Conference Planning Committee, who devoted a considerable amount of time and effort and whose leadership provided the interest and enthusiasm to make the conference successful.

Additional expressions of appreciation are due to the entire Governor's Conference planning Committees and the APLS staff who worked endless hours in preparing for the Conference.

Twenty-one resolutions were adopted at the Conference. I believe the most important resolution was the one calling for Governor James to appoint a committee to study library cooperation on a statewide basis.

The elected delegates will play a vital role in conveying Alabama's concerns to the White House Conference to be held in Washington, D.C., November 15-19, 1979.

The delegates elected were: Nancy Agnew, Director, Wheeler Basin Regional Library; Geraldine Bell, Coordinator of Media Resources, Birmingham Public School System; Kay Vowvalidis, Trustee, Southeast Alabama Cooperative Library System; Justice Bigbie, Broker, Regal Reality; Sidney Sandridge, President, Athens State College; Jane Mabry, City Council Member, City of Huntsville; Bettye Fine Collins, Chairman, Birmingham Board of Education; William King, Director, Youth Resource Center, Montgomery; and Carl Elliott, Sr., Attorney-at-Law, Jasper. Alternates were Anthony W. Miele, Director, Alabama Public Library Service; Byron Causey, President, Alexander City State Junior College; Truman Pierce, Dean Emeritus, School of Education, Auburn University; William Highfill, Librarian, Auburn University Libraries.

The APLS newsletter, COTTONBOLL, which had suspended publication during the Governor's Conference activities, resumed publication with its January, 1979, issue. With a mailing list of over 2,300, COTTONBOLL serves as a communications vehicle for librarians, friends, trustees, organizations, and others to enable them to keep abreast of programs and projects being carried out not only by APLS, but by the 183 public libraries in Alabama.

Also during 1979, a newsletter was instituted for the patrons of APLS's Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Produced by the agency, the "WhATs LINE" carries specific information on programs, services, and other matters relative to the needs of this special segment of Alabama population.

The 1979 Summer Reading Program, "Where in the World," always a successful program, proved doubly successful this year because of a new twist: APLS produced a braille edition of the reading program to allow blind children in the state to participate. This is a "first" for any state library agency. The positive response from the children, their parents, and the news media ensured a continuation of this phase of the program.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

For the third year, APLS is a participant in the statewide committee on Library Continuing Education. The goal of this committee is to facilitate the development of quality continuing education programs for the members of the Alabama Library Community.

In addition to two full-time scholarships for study in a graduate library school with a program accredited by the American Library Association, two part-time scholarships were also awarded.

On the level of actually delivering continuing education programs, the state library agency directly or in cooperation with other state agencies, provided the following conferences and workshops:

Who Runs Your Library 1978? (November 3-4, 1978) A revised and expanded version of the 1977 trustee workshop co-sponsored by the Trustees and Friends and Public Library Divisions of the Alabama Library Association, Inc., the Department of Educational Media and Office of Continuing Education of Auburn University, and the Alabama Public Library Service.

What is the U.S. Government Really Doing? (May 11, 1979) A workshop on federal government documents open to all members of the Alabama library community and co-sponsored by the Government Documents Roundtable (GODORT) of the Alabama Library Association, Inc., Auburn University at Montgomery Division of Continuing Education, and the Alabama Public Library Service.

Intensive Library Seminar-1979 (May 13-25, 1979) The second two-week program designed to acquaint practicing librarians without graduate library degrees with the theories and concepts of public librarianship. This experience is co-sponsored by the Graduate Library School of the University of Alabama through the Division of Continuing Education and the Alabama Public Library Service.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS AND GRANTS

Humanities Resource Center: In April, the Alabama Public Library Service received a grant of over thirty-two thousand dollars from the Alabama Committee for the Humanities and Public Policy. The grant established a Humanities Resource Center to collect, preserve, and circulate media productions funded by humanities grants within the state. This is the first such grant awarded to a state library agency.

In addition to the above, another function of the center will be to develop programs in the Humanities and make them available along with the previously mentioned media.

Humanist-in-Residence: A second year of funding by the Alabama Committee for the Humanities made it possible to continue this outstanding project. This program has succeeded admirably in reaching out-of-school adults.

Energy and the Way We Live: The only state library to receive such a grant which was awarded by the American Library Association. Funded by National Endowment for the Humanities, the grant program seeks to develop a state model for public programming in the humanities through public libraries.

State Data Center: Alabama Public Library Service along with the Alabama Development Office and the Center for Business and Economic Research at the University of Alabama comprise the State Data Center. Alabama was one of six states selected as pilot projects to develop methods of distributing census material and information to the people of Alabama. Workshops and seminars will be held statewide for both dispensers (libraries and regional development offices) and users of data information.

ALABAMA PUBLIC LIBRARY SERVICE

Continued progress in statewide development is made possible by having a qualified staff capable of providing leadership and guidance in statewide library development. This, of course, proves that qualified staff is an essential component of any successful operation. Near the end of the fiscal year, a documents department with a qualified documents librarian came into being. Documents are an essential ingredient in providing needed information. Once this service is in full operation, the benefits will become increasingly apparent.

A Media Consultant also came on board late in the year. The major objective of this program is the development of a statewide 16mm film circuit.

Our personalized reference service for the Legislature and state employees continues to expand dramatically. The addition to our collection of such items as Energyfiche, phonefiche, and the preparation of selected bibliographies has helped to make the above possible.

During the fiscal year, interlibrary loans increased by 34%, circulation by 32%, and the SOLINET interlibrary loan subsystem became a reality. A great deal of time was spent in developing interim procedures for interlibrary loan on ALIN, (Alabama Library Information Network) to be implemented after January 1, 1980.

The Serials librarian position was finally filled in November, 1978. The Serials collection is quickly developing into a good professional collection. It has increased from 779 titles to 1,132 titles. In addition, our microfilm collection has grown accordingly.

Total expenditures for all library materials amounted to $296,867. This is a slight increase over 1978 expenditures.

The Acquisitions department field tested LIBRIS, a commercial automated acquisition system. Though the system had a lot of merit, more refinements are needed before it could be used advantageously by APLS.

Through the use of SOLINET, cataloging for 12 public libraries plus one junior college library was initiated as a pilot project. If the experiment is successful, this service may become permanent and expanded to include additional libraries.

Throughout the state, libraries are benefiting from increased public awareness of the role of libraries in the educational and cultural life of Alabamians. This point was never more apparent than during the Governor's Conference. The need for improved public relations was the number one concern voiced at the Governor's Conference and during the regional conferences as well.

The state LSCA advisory council plays an important role in the development of library service in Alabama. This group of dedicated librarians and lay people by analyzing the grant program for federal funds provide a wide variety of knowledge and experience. They have made it easier for APLS to do its work with a focus on statewide needs.

The Alabama Public Library Service Executive Board consists of James E. Daniel, (Chairman); the Honorable Herndon Inge, Jr., (Vice-Chairman); Mrs. Mildred Phillips; Mrs. Kay Vowvalidis; Mrs. Ann Pritchard. Their dedicated support and concern for library service in Alabama have made possible the continued progress of APLS. Their continued involvement is essential to the well-being and development of libraries in Alabama.

To the Governor and the Legislature for whom this report was prepared, we are appreciative of your continued support of public libraries in Alabama. A great deal of progress has been made but much more remains to be done.

The Alabama Public Library Service has had another exciting and rewarding year filled with many accomplishments which would not have been possible without the cooperation of the Alabama library community, an Executive Board that is truly responsive to the needs of the library user, and a dedicated staff. The coming year will hopefully see more improvements for Alabama libraries and the Alabama Public Library Service.

DEFINITIONS

The annual report of the Alabama Public Library Service includes general library statistics for the year October 1, 1978 through September 30, 1979. Public Library statistics are given in three tables. The first is arranged alphabetically by county of location. The numerical code under Region identifies members of regional libraries and corresponds to the regional statistics in the last table.

The second table provides statistics for regional library headquarters. These statistics are for regional library services not included in the member library reports. For some single county regions (Autauga, Chambers, Cullman, Dallas, Etowah, Houston, Jefferson, Macon, Mobile, Montgomery, Russell, St. Clair, and Tuscaloosa counties) regional statistics are included in the county table listing.

The third table totals statistics for regional headquarters and member libraries. The arrangement is alphabetical by name of region. Grant awards under the Library Services and Construction Act are listed only in Table II, Regional Libraries Headquarters Reports, and Table III, Regional Libraries Totals for Member Libraries and Regional Liqraries Headquarters.

Financial reports were from unaudited accounts, Receipts and Expenditures were not required to balance for this report.

Population reports are from the 1976 estimated population area served by the library.

Total Staff in FTE includes all full-time and part-time staff. A full-time equivalent is computed on a thirty-five or more hours work week. Part-time staff is expressed as a decimal fraction of one.

Finances are reported in dollars. Standard rounding at $.50 was used to eliminate cents in the entries.

Local government receipts are the revenues received from all local government sources. The value of services provided by a local government, but not charged to the library budget, is included when a local government provided the actual cost of the service for this report.

Revenue sharing funds are reported separately.

Other includes funds for personnel under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

Wages and salaries reports include fringe benefits such as the employer's contribution to insurance, social security, retirement, etc.
